Flexible licensing options make AllChange even better value for money

To give you maximum flexibility you can purchase AllChange for named or concurrent users, with three different types of access levels.

Concurrent Users

Install AllChange on your entire network, giving access to a greater number of users. Anyone with permission can use AllChange simultaneously, up to your specified user limit. This is a very useful option for sites with a large number of infrequent users.

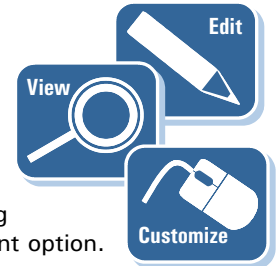

Named Users

Named licences are purchased for specific users on a named seat basis. This option is ideal for sites where people use AllChange on a regular basis.

Full Licences

Full licences give access to all the features and facilities of AllChange and can be purchased using the named or concurrent option.

Change Management Only Licences

These innovative licences give you full Change Management at only 37% of the full price.

Put change management where you need it, and give 'Read Only' access to the rest of the database.

Granting restricted access to your configuration management system for the whole of your organization and even customers, frees up your own resources. They can see for themselves the information they want and input themselves the information you need.

FREE Read Only Access Licences

A very popular option.

Give your users read only access to the entire database subject to whatever approval and security mechanisms you have defined.

Flexi-Licences

Special short-term licenses that can be bought on a monthly basis, for both named or concurrent users.
